

B.I.G.'s Rich Rossi Invited to 2012 Casino Del Sol College All-Star Game

New York, New York (January 7, 2012) - Bombastic Industries Group ("B.I.G.") is pleased to announce that Riverside Junior-Senior High School graduate and NFL hopeful Rich Rossi has received an invitation to play in the 2012 Casino Del Sol College All-Star Game.

Rossi, a 6'2" 225 lbs Wide Receiver/Tight End is a 2012 graduate of Sacred Heart University (I-AA) who is viewed by many as a dangerously fast and big receiving option in the upcoming NFL draft. His versatility is unmatched. As Head Coach Paul Gorham stated, "Rich is a big physical receiver who can line up outside and at tight end for us, and make plays over the middle." During his senior season, Rich caught 47 receptions for 574 yds, averaging 12.2 yds per catch, and 6 touchdowns.

The Casino Del Sol College All-Star Game will take place on January 16, 2012 at Kino Stadium in Tucson, Arizona and will feature more than 90 of the nation's best college football players. The rosters will feature players from nationally known schools like Arizona, Arizona State, Boise State, Colorado, LSU, Michigan, Oklahoma, Penn State, and Pittsburgh. Rich is the first Sacred Heart student to get invited to this prestigious All-Star Game.

The game will be broadcast live on FOX Sports Arizona, FOX Sports Southwest PLUS, FOX Sports Houston PLUS, FOX College Sports and SportSouth.
