2019 Women in Science and Engineering (WISE) Forum

Tuesday, February 12, 2019* from 5:30-9:00 PM

DeSales University, Center Valley, PA

Have dinner with inspiring women who have pursued or are in the process of pursuing STEM careers. Learn what they do and how they got there, what inspired them, what they like best about their careers, what cool tools and equipment they get to use, and how they make a difference through science, technology, engineering, and math!

If you are a female high school student with an interest in STEM (science, technology, engineering, or mathematics), we invite you to submit your application to attend the 2019 Women in Science and Engineering (WISE) Forum, presented by Sanofi Pasteur. This event features a Mentoring Dinner where students can interact with female professionals from area STEM corporations as well as college students and faculty. Following the dinner, a Public Panel Discussion is held featuring a panel of Distinguished Female Leaders in STEM from across the country.

This event is free, but students must apply to attend. To complete the application, visit Da Vinci Science Center online at <https://www.davincisciencecenter.org/wise-forum-student-application/>.

Applications are due by Friday, January 11th. Attendees will be notified of their acceptance via email by Friday, January 18th.
