School Nurse's Day May 6, 2019

School nursing is more than just providing band-aids and record keeping. School health professionals juggle a complex array of medical and social issues. Nor is their work confined to only the nurse's office. They must interact with other professionals such as teachers, doctors, school counselors, administrators, parents, law enforcement and other education support professionals. With that in mind we would like to extend our thank you to Mrs. Jensen for all she does for our students. We salute you on this day!
