Group B = Taylor & Scranton - Will physically attend on Days 2, 4 & 6

Any student wishing to attend virtually 100% of the time, instead of physically attending on the rotational schedule, will be able to follow their daily schedule and participate in and earn credit for all classes they are scheduled to take.

Students must either physically attend in the Group A/Group B rotation or participate 100% virtually.

Attendance

Attendance will be taken daily in homeroom by the homeroom/1st period teacher when students are physically present.

Attendance will be taken daily in the homeroom by the homeroom/1st period teacher when students are virtually present by students logging into the homeroom/first period teacher's Google Meet between 7:51AM and 7:58 AM. If a student does not log in during that time, he/she will be counted as absent unless the school's main office is contacted by the student's parent/guardian prior to 9 AM. Once students log in, they are able to participate live or through recorded lessons through Google Meet/Classroom.

Instruction

All students will receive virtual instruction from September 9, 2020 through September 11, 2020. Each student will log into their Homeroom Google Meet between 7:51 AM and 7:58 AM for attendance purposes. The Homeroom Google Meet for September 9, 10 & 11 will be with the teacher that the student has his/her classes with on each Day 1.

The first day of live "in school" instruction for Group A will be on September 14th. The first day of live "in school" instruction for Group B will be on September 15th. All students not physically attending will log into their Homeroom Google Meet between 7:51 AM and 7:58 AM for attendance purposes.

Live instruction will occur daily for the group that is physically present and for the students participating from home, if the students at home wish to participate at the same time. All students should bring their Chromebooks, fully charged, to school when they are physically present at school. The live instruction lesson component may consist of the live recording of the educator conducting the lesson or utilizing screen share and audio for a period of time necessary to cover the direct instruction or demonstration portion of lessons. This could range anywhere between 15 minutes and 20 minutes in most cases. This component of the instructional process will be recorded and posted for students at home to watch/interact with prior to physically attending the next day. The lesson materials and worksheets/assignments will be posted, at the latest, prior to the live instruction on the day the lesson is presented.

Students not physically present may participate live through Google Meet or watch the recorded version and participate through Google Classroom. Assignments are due according to each teacher's deadline. It is each student's responsibility to participate and complete all assignments and activities assigned including the days he/she is not physically present.

Primary educational content and instructional focus areas will be posted to each educator's Google Classroom courses. Google Classroom courses will be organized into instructional units. Students participating from home will follow each educator's daily lesson plan during Tier II. Students will know what the objective of each lesson is and how they will achieve the objective. Homework and other assignments will be posted as well. Learning activities, inclusive of readings/texts, videos, etc. shall be posted under materials.
