The 2013-14 season was a great one for the entire tennis team. We worked very hard throughout the summer and fall. Despite only a few victories, we all strove to become better and develop our techniques. Overall, great memories were made and wonderful friendships were formed.

This season, the varsity cross country team was comprised of a total of eight runners, one of the smallest in team history. However, that number didn't limit the competitive nature of the team members. In all league competition, all members scored for the boys team, which allowed for all the girls scoring points at select meets. The competition level within the team improved everyone's finishing times allowing the only rookie, Chris Speicher, to cut more than four minutes off his time and sending junior Cassie Semyon to Hershey to run in the state cross country championship.

Over the past three years, our team had three different coaches. It was tough for the team to find a set strategy since each new coach had different coaching techniques. Each year we hoped to have enough kids come out for the team. Our team was co-ed, because of low turnout which made playing teams consisting of all boys very difficult. In addition, we suffered injuries that left players out for a large portion of the season. The season was tough, but we persevered and managed to win a few games. One glorious moment was when we ended up beating our rivals from Old Forge. Despite all the difficulties we encountered, we had a fun season making new friends and playing the game the way it should be played.

This football season was not the best one Riverside has ever seen. Even though it had many downs, it also had ups with some big and exciting plays. The team was led by seniors Tyler Armillay, Nico Munley, James Hoban, and Tom Lavelle. They ended with a record of 1-9 with a win coming against playoff contender Susquehanna. The team consisted of two of the leagues leading receivers, Nico Munley and Matt Fallon, along with a running back who rushed for over 700 yards. Many underclassmen stepped into big roles to play, so the future looks promising for the football program.

With no seniors this school year, Riverside's bands were powered by young middle school talent, rookie upperclassmen, and four returning juniors. This year's marching band field show was centered on television show theme songs, including The NFL on Fox, (Meet) The Flintstones, The A-Team, and Mission: Impossible. This year the dedicated band went the extra mile to learn two extra field show songs instead of the traditional three.

The marching band's advisor is Mrs. Elaine Ort. The band is also being led by drum major Andrew Gallagher (junior) as well as various section leaders. The concert and jazz bands, as well as the newly formed percussion ensemble and pep band, are directed by Mrs. Elizabeth Reifler.

Riverside's golf team had a successful season winning several matches. Hours of dedication to the green were spent practicing on the team's home course, Pine Hills. It all paid off when they won this year's Pine Cup.

The 2014 basketball team had a great season. The team had huge wins against West Scranton in the holiday tournament and defending Eastern Conference champion Holy Cross. They also knocked off #1 seed Elk Lake in district playoffs. Things didn't bounce their way late in the season but the friendships made will last a lifetime.

Track

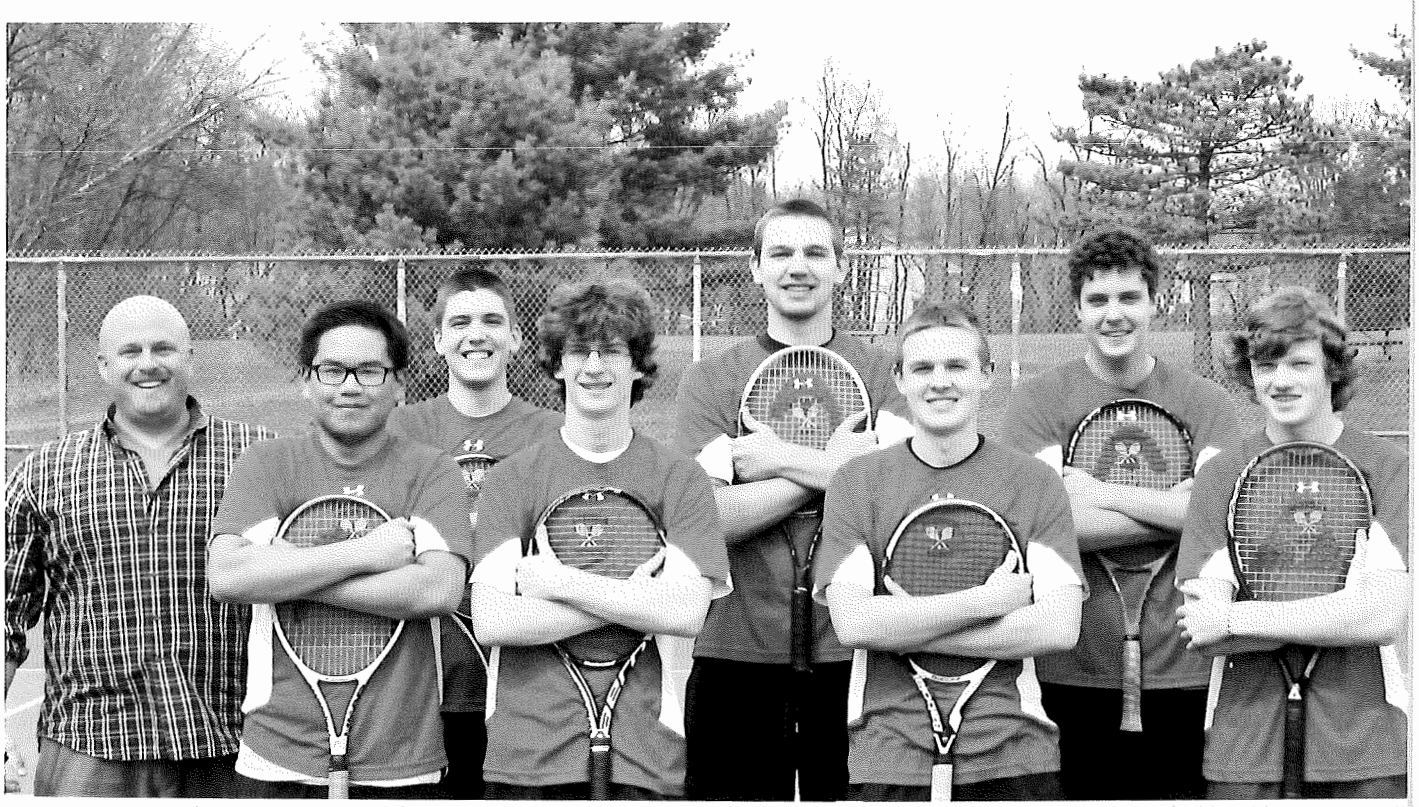

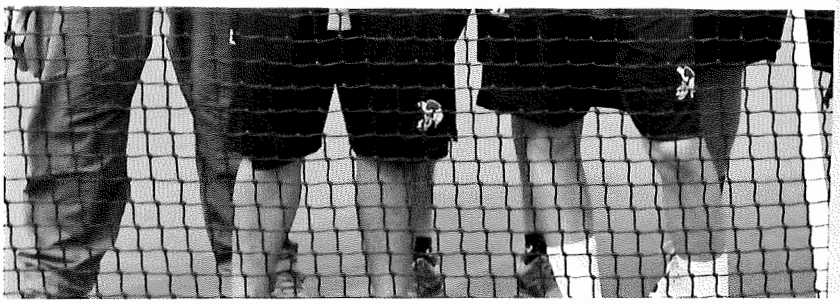

The boys' and girls' track teams brought their best to the season. Senior members also worked on making memories and building life long friendships. One of the highlights of the season was the new school record set by the boys' 4x100 team.

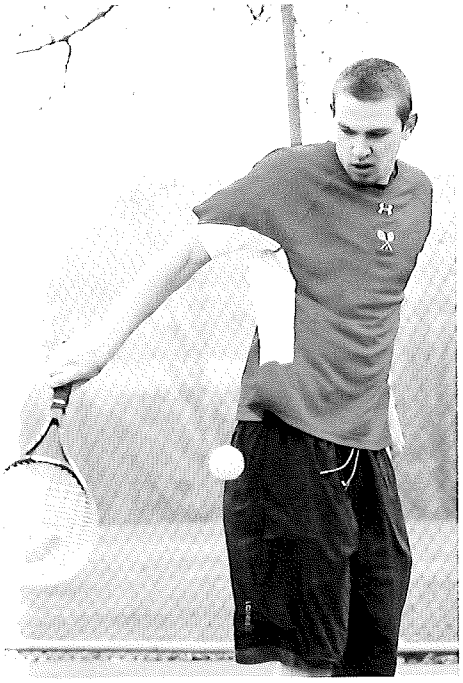

The boys' tennis team showed their skills under the tutelage of Coach Robert Thomas. The senior members led the way as the boys showed their love of the game in match after match. The boys also had their first team win in nearly a decade.

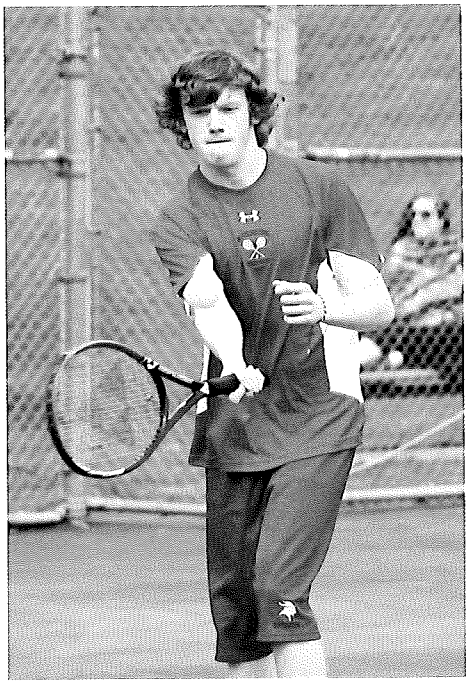

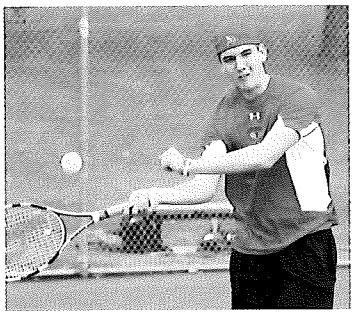

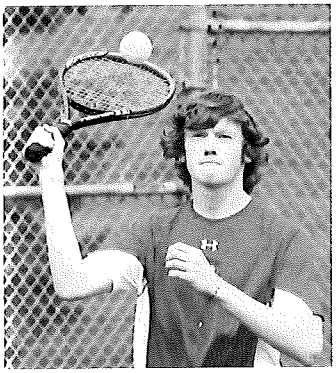

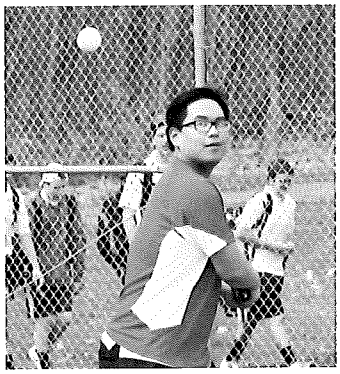

Boys' Tennis

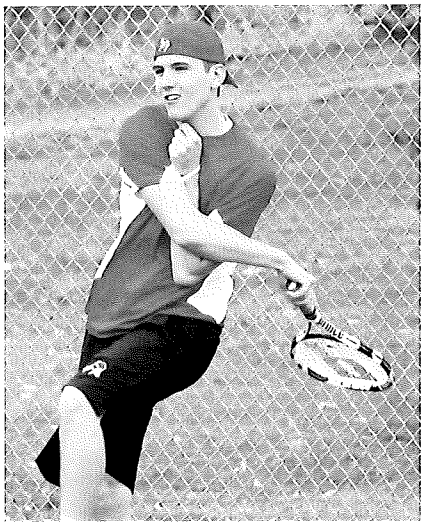

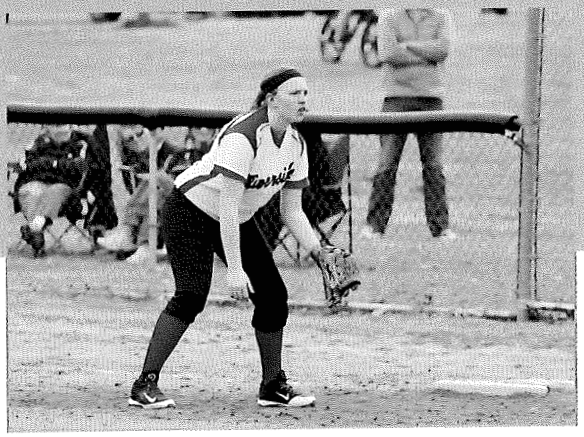

Softball

Although the softball season was cut short, the four seniors will leave with a lifetime of memories; from Lacee Collins breaking the strikeout record, to Foxxo being glued to a bucket. The team has a special bond that can never be broken. The seniors would like to wish next year's team the best of luck on their season!

Pep Rallies

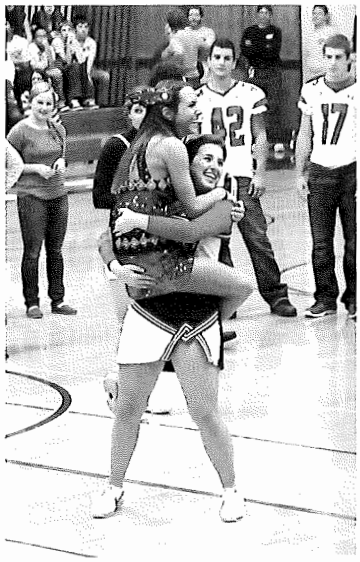

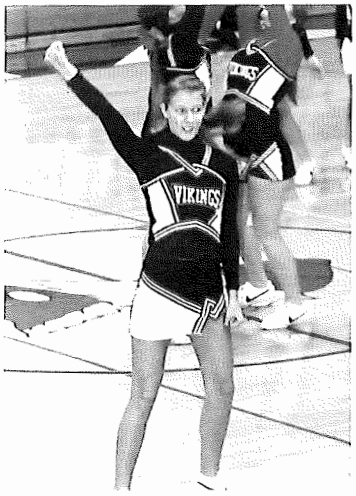

In keeping with tradition, the first pep rally was held at the football field prior to the first game of the season. As cheerleaders and football players got their pie in the face, the team got prepared with their "ready for the season" attitude. The in school pep rallies brought back old favorites like the wheelbarrow race, pie a teacher in the face (sponsored by the Science Club), and senior cheerleaders ditties to the senior players. One memorable moment was Mrs. McDermott interrupting a girl power dance during the homecoming/pink out pep rally.

The theme for this year's hall decorating was countries around the world. The halls reflected the land and culture of the chosen nations.

Class History

Jenelle and Tom meet each other at Panera Bread in 10 years
JR: Hey!
TN: What's up?
JR: Remember we came here the day before senior year started to do our AP Chem?
TN: Yeah, I did all the work while you asked dumb questions.
JR: That's not how I remember it…
TN: I didn't even think it was you at first. You and Madison Petro still look like each other.
JR: Yeah, we always got that! Hey I wonder if Steve Czankner still works here.
TN: I'm not sure. I wonder if he is still dating Bethany Mickavicz. They were the classic baseball/softball couple senior year.
JR: They were the cutest! We had a lot of cute couples in our class.
TN: Like Matt Mendos and Kasey Gandara who worked at McDonald's together.
JR: Yeah! We even had a married couple, Doug Williams and Brittany Talavera Williams!
TN: I know, I don't remember the last time that happened at Riverside.
JR: Me either, and they became parents as well! Congratulations to them!
TN: Aww, that will be nice, they had play dates with Danielle Golembeski's baby too!
JR: That's so cute.
TN: I think so too!
JR: We were definitely a grade of more fighting than marrying.
TN: Oh definitely. Like Emily Englert and Melia Garcia.
JR: Didn't Anthony Yackabovitz punch someone in the locker room too?
TN: Yeah, I think so. Remember when Shane Aldrich got hit in the back of the head with rulers?
JR: Oh yeah! That seems like forever ago!
TN: Yeah, remember when Willie Orazzi hit a light post at the TCC parking lot?
JR: Yeah! People used to hang out at the TCC all the time, then everyone migrated to the Moosic McDonald's.
TN: Remember when Samantha Frame was a colony ball hero?
JR: Yeah she was. But I think Greg Shaffer takes the cake for colony ball memories.
TN: Didn't he get nailed by Charlie Koytek?
JR: The whole gym class fell to the ground laughing so hard.
TN: We talked about it in Spanish class that day too.
JR: Was that when Charlie Koytek, Mathew Lucas, Connor Mailen, and Tyler Armillay were called "The Dragons" and made dragons noises and talked about jeans and denim all class?
TN: Yep! That was it!
JR: That was as funny as when Toni Mastres mispronounced "tenticles."
TN: I forgot about that! When was that? Freshman year?
JR: Yep. Chris Gnall already had a tattoo by then.
TN: And Joe Janesko had a full grown beard.
JR: Remember when Clayton Casino and Pabst loved each other?
TN: Yep! But the real loves were Cassie Caputo and her love of animals.
JR: Didn't she work at Cinemark with Brian Dalbo?
TN: They did. He ran for prom king didn't he?
JR: Yeah, but Jacob Torba won king and Hailey Matthews was crowned Prom Queen!
TN: We had a lot of royalty in our senior class.
JR: Yeah, Tabetha Saylock was prom princess and Homecoming Queen and Christian Rivera and Stephen Piasecki were the Homecoming Knight
TN: And Peter Miles was Homecoming King.
JR: Wasn't he the lead in a play?
TN: Yeah, all of them!
JR: Veronica Pettyjohn was always a big drama club person too!
TN: She was! My favorite was her as Low-Butt in HONK!
JR: Me too! Kelsey Shaughnessy, Megan Kolis, and Abbey Wzorek were the ultimate extras.
JR: Steph Golosky did the hair and makeup for Legally Blonde, too.
TN:Her and Samantha Deininger were the makeup queens
JR: They definitely were.
TN: Felecia Garcia was in the play Legally Blonde too wasn't she?
JR: Yeah, but she joined 2 weeks before opening night.
TN: We had a lot of talent in our class, from theater, to athletics.
JR: And some amazing voices. Alejandra Mainetto won Riverside's Got Talent every year!
TN: Didn't Melinda Scotti twirl in that?
JR: Yeah! She was really good!
TN: And Jeremy Davis was in the band that one the performance category.
JR: Michael Kuhn should have entered and performed his rap.
TN: Brittny Paranich could have twerked during the National Anthem for everyone
JR: Speaking of performances, Poetry Out Loud was always a good competition to watch.
TN: I know. Between Ellie Helcoski and Ariel Kimes, it was always a close one!
JR: Summer Naughton was definitely the class artist. I would go on Facebook and look at all of her pictures.
TN: I think it's a tie between her and John Ferguson.
JR: That's a close call.
TN: We had a lot of athletic kids, too.
JR: Nico Munley and Darrell Cintron were on the 4x1 team that broke the school record and went to states!
TN: And Katie Klinger was an awesome soccer player.
JR: Joe Orloski was a sick goalie, too.
TN: Almost as sick as Cody Kelly was at skateboarding.

JR: Kyle May was a good tennis player too.
TN: And Jessica Rowe was the quietest cheerleader to come through.
JR: I don't think she talked very much.
TN: Either did Brianna Tucker.
JR: I never heard Kelvin Arce talk much, but I always heard him laughing.
TN: And flirting with everyone
JR: Remember how Natalee Fuller and Erin Walsh couldn't think of a class history for us? I do.
TN: And we can't forget Madison Haduck carrying on the basketball prodigy gene all of the Haducks have!
JR: Kayleigh Kempa is the only person I know that could eat a full meal with a large coke and a frosty then go out and practice.
TN: That's a stomach of steel right there.
JR: Didn't Mikaela Buntz and Megan Kolis run track?
TN: No. They just kept score.
JR: Remember when Josh Bendowski ran track?
TN: Yeah he was good, but no one knew his last name. We only knew him as "Jedi Josh."
JR: Like everyone called John Lovallo, "Jollo."
TN: He was always so quiet.
JR: I think he was just sleeping again
TN: Ashley Fuentez was always really quiet too.
JR: It was even worse when she lost her voice.
TN: We can't forget about the football stars Travis Rogers, Mark Gorton, Nestor Colon, and Jimmy Hoban.
JR: I think Jimmy Hoban had the nicest truck in the grade.
TN: Nicky Surplus would disagree.
JR: Our baseball team had a better run than it had in the past too.
TN: They did. It's a good thing Tyler Piccotti's pitching arm wasn't the one he hurt in the ripstick accident.
JR: Very true! Ashley Buffton had a pretty bad injury, too.
TN: She completed two sports seasons with no ACL!
JR: Yeah, that must have been rough.
TN: Speaking of rough, didn't Dylan Matsko break his collar bone during doubles?
JR: Yeah, that must've hurt.
TN: Didn't Kali Masewitz hurt her arm or wrist or something didn't she?
JR: Yeah she fell off a horse.
TN: Wasn't Gabrielle Palonis obsessed with horses?
JR: Yep! She was FutureVet96!
TN: Didn't Ronnie Roberts run track?
JR: Yeah but he hurt himself at practice so he never got to compete.
TN: Ohh yeah. Him and Jonna Boyda were a cute couple.
JR: They were! Borthwick loved Jonna in AP Lit!
TN: And even though he didn't do a single thing, he loved James Webb too.
JR: He did! Just like Ms. O'Shea loved Brandy Hernandez even though they disagreed all the time.
TN: Remember how Facundo Sequeira knew all of Kennedy's random trivia questions.
JR: Yeah, I don't know how.
TN: I'm surprised Elbia Grande didn't get more bonus points in his class. She was always studying during gym class.
JR: Even though he didn't study during gym class, Nick Haas can give Kennedy a run for his money on how much history he knew.
TN: I know. I don't know how. He and Brett Manning slept in all class.
JR: People always thought Matt Delasandro was sleeping too, but he wasn't.
TN: Remember when he dated Shannon Roe?
JR: Oh yeah! Our class had some style, too.
TN: Tyler Steele had the best "hipster" look hands down.
JR: Or was it Michael Swingle? I was barely able to tell them apart.
TN: And Kaneesha White and Makayla Minutes rocked their weaves.
JR: Katelyn Tisdel was always dying her hair.
TN: Didn't it end up turning green?
JR: I think so. And Marie Stewart had blue hair.
TN: Kody Orlowski had that Justin Beiber haircut for the longest time too.
JR: I remember that!
TN: Wow, I'm really hungry.
JR: Me too. Maybe Tom Lavelle can deliver us some Dino's.
TN: Or Corey Allen can make us some bitty bites.
JR: Don't trust Sara Ortiz with the plates, though. Do you know how many dishes she broke in home ec?
TN: Definitely about 6.
JR: Or we can just visit Alexa Aulisio at Rita's.
TN: Do you remember when Lilly Kelly won a lunch with Joe Klebon and cried because she was so happy!
JR: Yes! Everyone was jealous!
TN: Or when Brian Sophabmixay would bring eggrolls into school?
JR: Who could forget?! They were amazing!
TN: Didn't he marry Jessica Reber at the mock wedding?
JR: I'm pretty sure.
TN: We had a lot of people go into the Vo-Tech program too.
JR: Yeah like Chris Fairclough, Danielle Olsofsky, and Robert Phillips.
TN: Our class had some ups and downs but I think we had a good 4 high school years together.
JR: Me too. I can't wait to see everyone at our reunion!
TN: Me either! well I have to go. It was nice catching up!
JR: You too!

Prophecy

Charlie Koytek randomly Facebook messages Ariel Kimes 10 years after graduation
C- Hey! Are you busy tonight?
A- Um… not really. Why are you messaging me???
C- Oh, wrong person, my bad. Anyways what's up? I haven't seen you since graduation.
A- Nothing much, I'm a physician assistant at Geisinger with Abbey Wzoreck.
C- Oh cool, a lot of people went into the medical field right?
A- Yeah! Jim Hoban and Tabitha Saylock are pharmacists and Shane Aldrich is looking into it. Melinda Scotti and Kelsey Shaugnessy became really successful physical therapists, Jess Rowe is a vet, and Emily Englert is an occupational therapist.
C- And Natalie Fuller, Sara Ortiz, and Erin Walsh are nurses at Moses Taylor where Kali Masewitz works as an ultrasound technician and Marie Stewart's an EMT.
A- Oh yeah and Tom Nawrocki and Mikaela Buntz are finishing up their doctorates. Katie Tisdel just became a dentist. And Jenelle Richards and Mat Lucas are really famous chemical engineers. What are you up to these days?
C- I'm in engineering with Steve Czankner. Wait… didn't you go to jail or something?
A- Well… I may have set fire to Dunkin with Mike Swingle and Tyler Piccotti… but it's okay because Corey Allen and Josh Bendowski were the cops and they went pretty easy on us. And in jail, Toni Mastres was my anger management therapist, it was fun.
C- Wait! Did you hear Corey's running for President with Joe Janesko as his VP?
A- Yeah! And Ashley Fuentez actually became the president of Mexico! But she commutes to Houston on the weekends. Oh! Speaking of Ashleys, Ashley Buffton was my cellmate!
C- What? Why was she there?
A- She lead some pretty big women's rights protests that didn't go over well with law enforcement.
C- Same with Chris Fairclough, he's a part of equal rights movements and Cassie Caputo and Sam Frame fight for animal rights.
A- They don't throw blood on people right?
C- No, I'm pretty sure it's just paint.
A- Oh! Ellie Helcoski's a really famous painter! Her work inspires riots and fuels the Ukraine revolution.
C- Wow, ten years later and Ukraine is still fighting for freedom, Kennedy is definitely crying himself to sleep every night.
A- Most likely, anyways Ellie's in some trouble with the military now for all of the global chaos she's causing, Nick Haas, Anthony Yackobovits, and Doug Williams were sent by the US armed forces to control the situation. And Felecia created an anti war hippie group made up of peaceful protesters with Willie Orazzi, Tyler Steele, Brandy Hernandez, Alejandra Mainetto, Jessie Reber, Alexa Aulisio, Gabby Palonis, and Peter Miles.
C- Peter actually made a film about it starring himself, Maddi Petro, and Alejandra's music. They all won major academy awards.
A- Oh yeah, it was great! You know Sam Deininger, Makayla Minutes, and Summer Naughton were the hair and costume designers.
C- Cool, and didn't Tyler invent something?
A- Yeah! they're like windshield wipers for your glasses! He made millions!
C- You know who else is really successful? Mike Kuhn! He's a rap god, they're starting a religion based on him!

A- Yeah! I heard him on Brian Dalbo's radio station along with Jeremy Davis's christian rock band and Cody Kelly's alternative rock. They're going to be at Warped Tour this year.
C- Nico Munley is the best plastic surgeon in all of Pennsylvania and Connor Mailen owns a sneakers company.
A - And Tom Lavelle is the CEO of Newport while Greg Shafer is a CEO too.
C- Wow, our graduating class is pretty unique, did anyone just stay in PA and start a family?
A- Well, Elbia Grande, Danielle Golembeski, Bethany Mickavicz, Brittny Paranich, Brittany Talevera, Stephanie Goloski, and Jacob Torba are all married with kids. Jake still wears his prom crown, I'd know, I still live next to him and his fourteen children. And Steph was crowned Miss America just last year, Madison Hadduck is probably going to win this year.
C- Oh, Kasey Gandara and Matt Mendos are getting married soon, they plan on moving into a house built by Clayton Casino's construction company. Kody Orlowski did the carpentry, Joe Orloski installed the heating system, Brett Manning did the electric, and Robert Phillips did the plumbing.
A- They're expecting kids soon, maybe Hailey Matthews, Veronica Pettyjohn, Brianna Tucker, or Kaneesha White will teach them in elementary school.
C- Are you going to the wedding?
A- Yeah but I really wish Jonna Boyda could go, I miss her.
C- She became a marine biologist and then was eaten by a whale right?
A- Unfortunately, at least she was able to prove that mermaids really do exist before that, it was her dream. Now Megan Kolis is working on negotiations with the merpeople as a human ambassador.
C- Did you hear about the huge robbery at Ray's Super Market?
A- No, but Matt Delasandro's the manager there right?
C- Yeah, someone was even killed. Kayleigh Kempa's in charge of the forensic investigation and they called in John lovallo from the CIA.
A- Oh, I remember Lilly Kelly and Chris Gnall telling me about that, they're in the criminal justice field as well. For a while they thought it was Dylan Matsko but it turns out he's in Japan.
C- Yeah, he's helping John Ferguson design his new video game. It's based on an Anime by Danielle Olsofsky.
A- It's really popular over there. You know James Webb was in Japan too, he's traveling the world for inspiration on his new novel.
C- Did you see the car he's driving now? It's a classic that was restored by Kelvin Arce, Nestor Colon, Kyle May, Facundo Sequeira, and Travis Rogers. They have an awesome garage set up.
A- Travis is a professional bodybuilder right? I think he's going to the Olympics.
C- There's some great athletes like Mark Gorton, a professional baseball pitcher, and Tyler Armillay played for the Giants before he was injured. He mows lawns for a living now and still goes to physical therapy at a rehabilitation center that's run by Catie Klingler and Shannon Roe.
A- Isn't Steve Piasecki the coach for the Giants?
C- Yeah, Ronnie Roberts is their athletic trainer and Brian Sophabmixay is the mascot.
A- Jordan Copp moved down to Florida along with Darrell Cintron right?
C- Yeah and Darrell's a professional sign language interpreter. And that's everyone.
A- Well this was fun, random, but fun.
C- I'll see you at the reunion?
A- I'll be there.

SALUTE

Welcome Class of 2014
Is the phrase we would always hear,
As we entered kindergarten and high school
But most importantly our senior year.

Walking through the high school doors
On the first day of seventh grade
We looked up to the seniors with awe
But also couldn't help but be afraid.

Now we are the senior class
Walking the halls with our heads held high,
But sadly in just two short days
We will begin to say our goodbyes.

But before we get ahead of ourselves
Let's take a second and pause
To reminisce on our eventful year
With smiles, tears, and maybe even applause.

We walked into school on the fourth of September
Knowing this was a year none would forget,
But first we had to beat application deadlines
And hoped not to be upset.
As the temperatures began to drop
Fall sports were in full swing,
And at the pink out game Tabetha and Peter
Were named Homecoming queen and king.

And to our Riverside football team
We all know you had a rough year.
As you heard at the pep rally,
"We started from the bottom and we're still here".

Before we knew it spirit week arrived
And we were determined to win
As we transformed our hall into England
Aware that breaking the senior tradition was a sin.

The basketball teams were ready
To fight their way to the top,
As both teams continued in the playoffs
Making sure their seasons were not a flop.

Winter came in full force
With snow storms every other night.
Delays and cancelations were frequent
But we were not going to put up a fight.

Once all the snow melted
And the fields were fully prepared,
The softball and baseball teams took the field
With the smell of victory in the air.

The success continued
As the track and field team did great,
And the boys 4x1 team worked hard
By running their way to the finals at states.

Drama Club's production of Legally Blonde was here
And everyone knew it would be a great feat,
As the crowd left saying, "Omigod! Omigod you guys"
This play is going to be a hard one to beat.

Prom night came around and we all felt "Young and Beautiful"
As we got dressed up for our last high school dance.
Cheers were loud as Jake and Hailey were crowned,
And the happiness in the room quickly enhanced.

After being postponed twice
The flag football game was finally played,
As the teachers cheated and we fought hard
But of course the outcome for us was gray.

Our first time reminiscing occurred at class night
As the class history, will, and prophecy was read,
A few speeches were given by our fellow seniors
Which caused some tears to be shed.

With moments turning into memories
Our senior year is drawing to a close,
We are beginning our life journeys
But not forgetting where we arose.

I would say goodbye Class of 2014
But goodbye means forever.
Instead I'm going to say see you later
Since we will see each other after our endeavors.

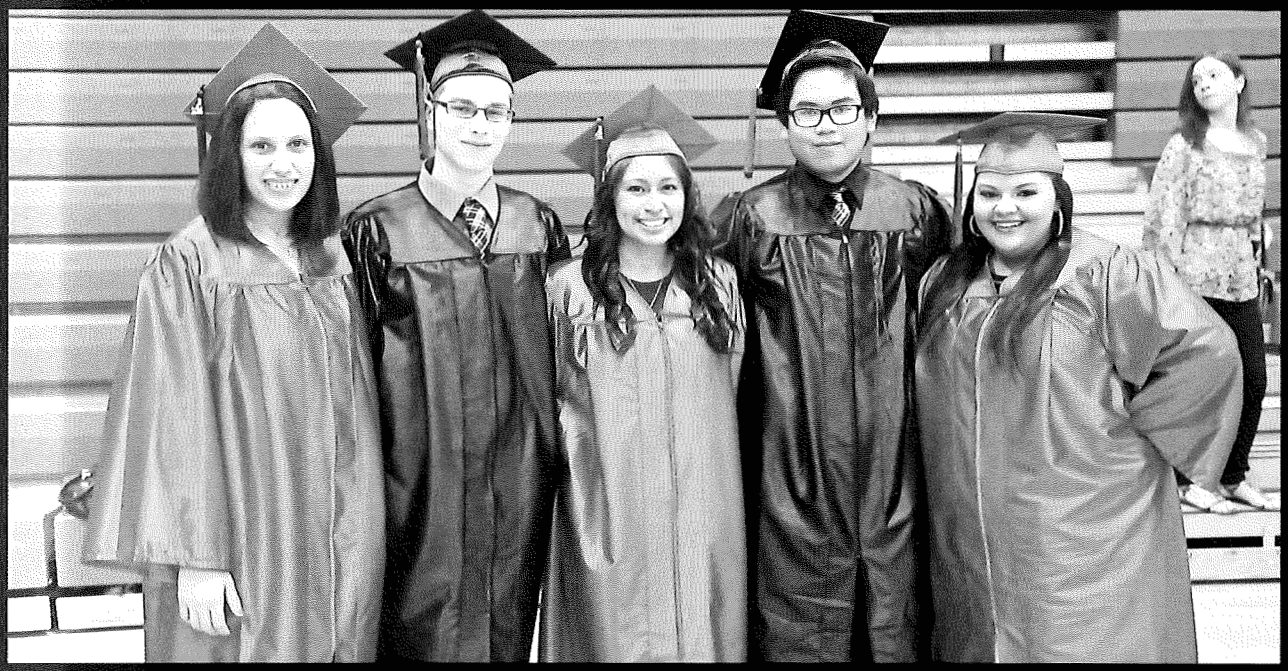

Mikaela L.

Makayla,
Young woman, my daughter, my joy and my heart, you taught me love unconditional from the 1st moment in my arms.
It seems just yesterday that I held your frightened little hand, as you started kindergarten & made new friends.
And now today a new chapter of life begins, as childhood & teenage yrs (your simple life) comes to an end.
The world sees the young woman you have grown to be, with your charm & smile & your own personality. But behind that young woman, I will always see, my beautiful daughter, my child, my baby. I'm so proud of you.
Love, mom

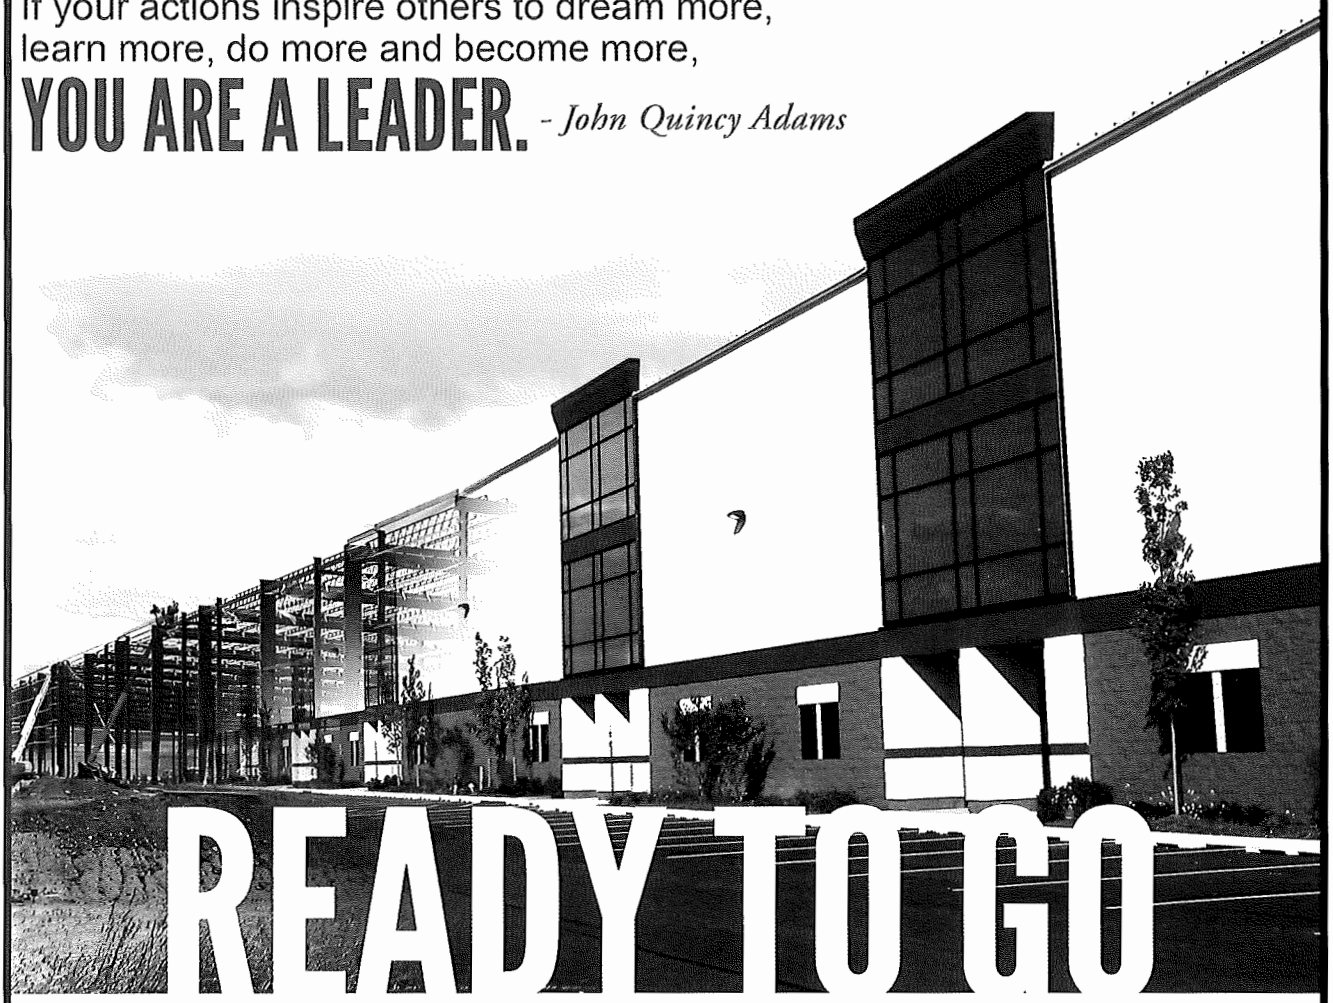

Charlie,
We are so very proud of the young man you have become.
Always follow your heart and your dreams.
Love
Mom & Michael
