DEDICATION

MRS. ANN CIKOWSKI

After 22 years of dedicated teaching at Riverside, Mrs. Ann Cikowski announced her retirement this year. During her tenure of teaching, she has been an influence and role model to many Riverside students, instructing them in 8 to 12th grade home economics and in 8th and 9th grade general science. The 1999 Yearbook Staff joins the faculty, administration, school board, and student body in extending Mrs. Cikowski best wishes in the future.

FADING MEMORIES

to end, our lives are just beginning to start. As our lives move on, separating farther day by day, we wish we could return to the past, the good times, the funny times, the painful times. Wanting to move on, but wishing we could go back; time ticks continuously non-stopping.

FADING MEMORIES

As our time together begins to end, our lives are just beginning to start. As our lives move on, separating farther day by day, we wish we could return to the past, the good times, the funny times, the painful times. Wanting to move on, but wishing we could go back, time ticks — continuous non-stopping, sometimes slowing when life gets too hard to handle but, just remember, you could always take a break and reflect on the past, when everyone had friends that they could turn to for help. Even though you may lose touch with a person, you'll always be friends, and the memories that are fresh in our minds will soon fade in the distance. The memories of the Class of '99 will never be forgotten. They will live in our hearts and our heads forever.

AP ENGLISH

The beginning of the 1999-2000 school year was filled with fear and apprehension for the students in the Advanced Placement English class. Those brave class members who decided to stay and face the challenge realized it was worth the hard work. The AP class improved steadily throughout the year under the instruction of Ms. Eileen Mischianti. The class left in June with a feeling of discipline and a better understanding of the meaning behind literature and composition.

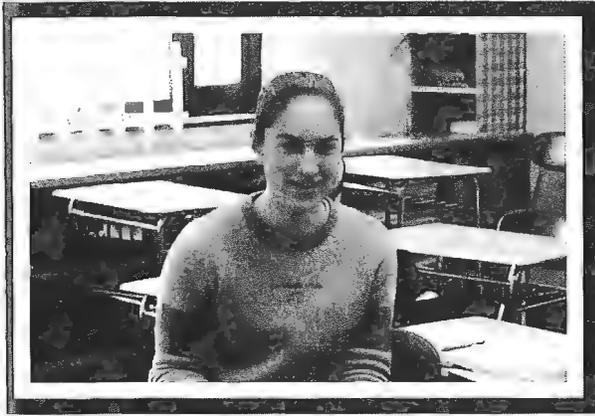

One big happy family!

"Ms. Mis, don't let them get away!"

"We are under your spell, Tim!"

"Dad, be quiet over there!"

"Excuse me. May I please say something?"

"As an expert on the superiority of women . . ."

"As an expert on the vulnerability of women . . ."

"Another day, another nap."

"Wait, I know it's here somewhere!"

"Back to Baseball!"

"Shhhh, I'm trying to study!"

STUDENT LIFE ...

SALUTE TO RIVERSIDE

Graduation is now approaching.
The remaining days are few.
Our time is quickly running out,
And there is still so much to do.

But let's take a break right now,
And reflect upon our lives.
Let's talk about all of the memories,
That we created at Riverside High.

As 7th and 8th graders,
Our future was so unclear,
So young and so inexperienced,
We were full of youthful fear.

Our freshman year was one for maturing,
For we now had our own hall and name.
We became more involved in activities and sports,
And we hardly noticed that our sophomore year came.

As we became the junior class,
We anxiously awaited our senior year.
When the summer of 11th grade quickly passed,
We couldn't believe that it was finally here.

Our last Spirit Week came and went,
"The Lion King" was our theme.
Of course our class had the best hall again,
For together we make a great team.

As for our Viking football team,
They had another outstanding year.
They captured the District II Championship once again,
And our seniors had a great ending to their high school careers.

Golf, Cross Country, and Girls' Tennis,
Were also played in the fall.
Although they were not the most recognized,
We are very proud of you all.

Basketball highlighted the winter season,
The boys' and girls' teams tried their very best.
Even though they were not the champions,
We all know that they are better than the rest.

Softball came next in the months of spring,
The girls were very dedicated to their game.

As our special seniors leave this year,
Coach Adomak will never be the same.

The "boys of summer" tried their hardest.
Even though they play in spring,
They captured our school's first league title,
And still in state playoffs what might the future bring?

Both our track and boys' tennis teams
Compete in these months too.
They fought with grace, heart, and dignity,
To their sport, they were always true.

Our last senior event came in the month of May.
"Meet Me Halfway" was our prom's theme.
We sang and danced until the night was done,
And Dave and Leah were crowned King and Queen.

Throughout our years at Riverside,
Teachers drew the line between work and play.
They were our instructors and our friends,
And I'd like to thank them for this today.

Friends that were made along the way,
Will be treasured from within.
They helped us grow and prepare ourselves,
For our futures that will soon begin.

As I reflect upon our memories of growing up,
Sometimes much too fast,
I now realize how these moments,
Can never really last.

Two days from now we will leave a life
That had once seemed so very dear.
As we will walk upon this very stage,
A piece of our youth will be left here.

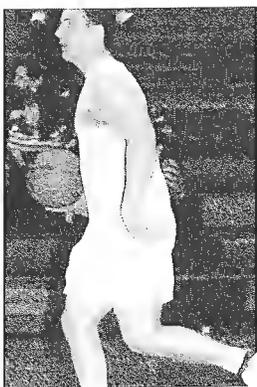

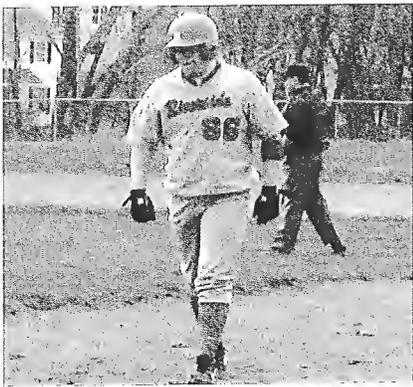

It has been a very long journey,
But together we have made it through.
An end is now upon us,
And a new beginning is too.

A special feeling lies within this school,
One that cannot be described.
So, hold these memories within your hearts,
As I proudly salute Riverside.

1998-1999 VIKING FOOTBALL

The Viking Football team had a very successful season. Senior captains Eugene Gallagher, Bill Kyttle, Nathan Thomas, T.J. Hudak and Ryan Oustrich led the team to a third straight District 2 Class A championship by defeating Lackawanna Trail. T.J. Hudak, Eugene Gallagher, Jeff Ransom, Mike Juba, Ryan Oustrich, Ryan Ott, Bill Kyttle and Mark Jones were selected to play in this year's Dream Game.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Although plagued by several injuries and an incomplete girls' team, this year's girls' and boys' cross-country teams overcame much adversity to succeed on an individual level. Composed mainly of underclassmen, these teams appear to have a bright future ahead of them. The only senior on the boys' team was Greg Frable. The senior girls were Danielle Casteel and Michelle Wolfsberger. The season was highlighted by Michelle being named a Lackawanna League Division III First-team All-Star. At the end of the year, captains Ryan Getts and Michelle received the Most Valuable Cross-Country Awards.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

This year, the girls' basketball team played in a new division and had the chance to face teams that they had never played before. These new teams proved to be more challenging opponents, but the girls still ended up having a competitive season. At the end of the season, Jackie Ott received the Best Offensive Player Award, Stacy Ericson received the Best Defensive Player Award, Jolene Wheeler received the Best Rebounder Award, and Lindsey Hanna and Kristen Gretz both received the Hustler Award. The team was coached by Miss Lisa Sporer and Mrs. Denise Duda and was led by Seniors Stacy Ericson, Stephanie Gleason, and Cara Nageli.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

After an impressive pre-season, the Viking basketball team went on to show Riverside what they were made of in a very competitive and exciting season. With the leadership of head coach Mr. Michael Morgan and team captain Ryan Oustrich, the team made it to the first round of district playoffs. Senior team members were Kevin Harchar, Joe Sluck, and Eugene Gallagher. Juniors Mike Morgan and Gary Beck also contributed to the teams successful season.

SENIORS

The 1999 Lady Vikes Softball Team worked to their potential to impress us all this season. The team, coached by David Adomiak, Stephen Petruinich, and Bill Rover, went undefeated in exhibition games and finished a successful season by making it to District Finals, where they lost 4-3 to Mid-Valley. Senior captains were Jenn Borowski and Nicole Capwell. The other senior members of the team were Dawn Kollinge and Michelle Wolfsberger.

TEAM

BASEBALL

The 1999 Viking baseball team had an amazing season this year, bringing home Riverside's first championship in history. The team, coached by Morgan Jones and Mr. Lalak, finished the year with 14 wins and 2 losses. Team captains were Jesse Jones, Kevin Harchar, Joe Sluck, and John Weikowski. The remaining senior members of the team were John Lucchi, Ryan Oustrich, Mike Juba, Kevin Puchalski, Josh Borer, and Glynne Greenfield. The team carried Riverside fans all the way to the state semifinals, showing us what being a Viking is all about.

GIRLS' TRACK

After graduating six key seniors last season, this year's girls track team was very young. Losing only two seniors next season, Jen Borowski and Michelle Wolfberger, the Lady Vikes will use the experience they gained this season to challenge many new competitors. Short on numbers, the Lady Vikes raced to an impressive third place finish at the Jordan Relays. The season was capped off by an individual third place finish in the 400m by Lindsey Griffiths at District competition and also a third place finish by an unseeded 3200m relay team comprised of Shari D'Annunzio, Alissa Rizzo, Lindsey Griffiths, and Michelle Wolfberger. At the All-Honors Banquet Michelle was named the Most Valuable Track Athlete, Lindsey received the Most Improved Track Athlete award, and Justine Ransom was given the Most Valuable Field award.

ALL HONORS

CLASS HISTORY

The year is 2015. Tim is running for mayor of Scranton and is handing out fliers. Nathan pulls up to his 1991 classic Detroit Camaro to vote.

T: Hi my name is Tim McNulty, please vote for me for mayor.
N: Hey Tim, its Nathan, remember me from highschool.

T: Oh my God its Nathan, I should have known you by your car.

T: I haven't seen you since the night before class day, when we stayed up all night working on the class history.

N: Yeah, we definitely should have started that earlier.

T: Yeah it is unlike me to procrastinate.

N: Hey do you still have that jeep.

T: No, not that one, but now I have a dealership full of them. Anthony Marinelli was my first customer, I guaranteed him that this one would actually run.

N: Who?

T: Yeah that's him.

N: At least he knew how to drive though.

T: Seriously, we had some horrible drivers. Right Mr. Nageli?

N: People didn't even know how to park in the parking lot.

T: Right like Harchar and Jahn.

N: Ya, Schmitt always parked crooked in his big red van.

T: While were on the subject of Schmitt's van, remember when Borer, Tone, Lee, and Golembeski dropped everything in the back of Schmitt's van at Penn State.

N: Others had the parking down, but not the important part.

T: Yeah like driving.

N: Exactly.

T: Remember Chrissy Maclean and her little Mercury?

N: Of course, she hit everyone's car at least five times.

T: And Greenfield with all those cars named after animals: eagle, worm, and fly.

N: Dude ahahahah.

T: Remember Holgate and his little Honda.

N: Ya, the last time he tried to get out of it, they needed to call on the jaws of life for backup.

T: Speaking of cars, remember how Jaynce had the oldest car in the school.

N: Yeah, I really like hot pink.

T: I like roast beef.

T: Do you remember Spamburgh and his truck?

N: Not really, but I do remember his hair.

T: Yeah, I think he got it cut once the whole time he was in high-school.

T: Remember the time when Chrissy Meehan and Dave Weitz showed up to school with the same hair style.

N: Yeah, I remember that; And how bout Kytte?

T: He got it cut like twice a year.

N: The only way that I could recognize him is by his spandex jeans and taz shirt.

T: Speaking of clothes, remember the time when Colby had to get a change of clothes from the nurse.

N: No, I don't remember.

T: Yeah, you pushed him in the bathroom and he had a little accident with Ray.

N: Yeah, some people did have some different styles, do you remember Derek with his yellow hair.

T: I thought it was green.

N: You mean red.

T: NO, I think blue.

N: Yo it was blonde, because I remember when he showed up with Vanilla Ice at the talent show.

T: The talent show was awesome.

N: Remember how Uher, Barrett, Spamburgh, and John Jones stole the show.

T: Yeah, definitely. Speaking of music, remember everyone with their car stereos.

N: Everyone always wasted their time trying to make them better.

T: Yeah, there was way to much money wasted on class history.

N: That money could have been spent on other things.

T: Like used it for Fisher's campaign for class president.

N: He sure didn't spend too much money on that, he just sat on the stage and played with his hair.

T: Or I could have gotten some dancing lessons (oh dear) I was Borer.

N: We could have given some of that money to those guys who tried to get that tent from Kumar "on sale".

T: Yeah we could have also bought a nice razor for Underdog.

N: For his face?

T: No, his legs.

N: Haha, but those legs did help us accomplish a lot in the sports areas.

T: Yeah, what other class had three district titles and a state championship appearance in football.

N: Guys basketball made the playoffs.

T: Both the softball team and the basketball team had one perfect seasons.

N: Didn't the tennis teams have good seasons too?

T: Yeah, both had really good years.

N: The girls that were on the trunk team had some memorable times, Especially in the Jordon Relays.

T: Speaking of good times, remember when Chris Jones drove his car straight through the front of the school, the janitors were cleaning it up for weeks.

N: Yeah that sure was funny.

T: There were a lot of undrilled things that happened in the school.

N: Yeah the fight between Borer and whathe could have been better.

T: I knew there was no saving it as soon as I started tried to stick Josh in his belly button.

N: The Tae-bo kick didn't help much either.

T: No, It didn't.

N: How bout when Joe Sluck tried to give blood in our very successful blood drive, but when the nurse tossed three weary pint of blood, there was a pint of love blood.

T: We all got surprised when Aound vandalized some good property.

N: Really, what happened, he swam like a good kid.

T: Well it wasn't that bad, he left a whole Browne in the government book for the whole year.

T: And during football, when Jahn got lost for one and had to miss his first start.

N: Remember Vahak's team in 9th grade, when some "brilliant" kids decided to pour gasoline on the fire.

T: That was right around the time when Burns was to be king.

T: And Lucchi surprising everyone with his girlfriend at the semi.

T: And remember McDermott?

N: Who?

T: No not Tom, McDermott, he was in our class wasn't he?

N: I don't think so.

T: You sure?

N: You're confused, he wasn't actually in our class but he was all of our class functions.

T: Oh yeah, he was part of the always present Alumni group.

N: Speaking of names, a lot of people had some strange and names.

T: Like how Kevin Puchalski stole his brother's nickname, even when he graduated.

N: Dad for Borer, because he had more chest hair than my dad.

T: Yeah and who can forget man, Kristin Gallagher.

N: We all know how she got that nickname.

T: Frank Moeller for Martin, for obvious reasons.

N: Loco.

T: Blitzer.

N: Sandman.

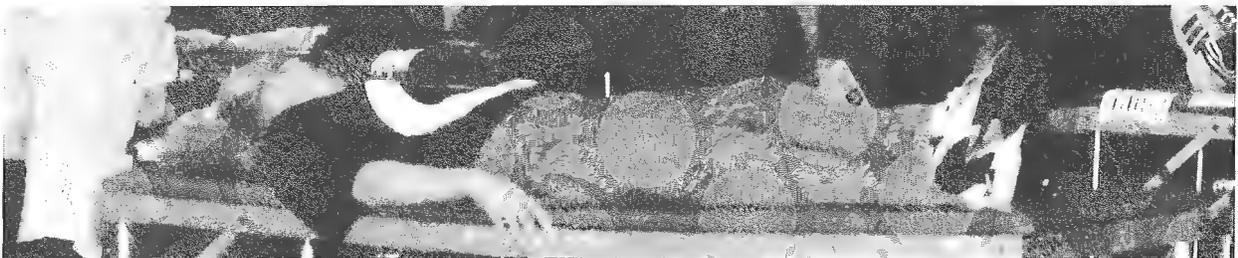

T: Norman.

N: Mr. Paulacastro.
T: K cubed.
N: For Oustrich, just to name a few.
T: Wingies for Sluck.
N: Bear for Jesse.
T: For Gondella, although he made it up himself.
N: And who could forget Davis with his light bulb head.
T: Yeah his head was really bright.
N: Hey remember in 7th grade when Borer.
T: No.
N: Maybe it was 8th?
T: Nope.
N: 9th? T: No.
N: 10th?
T: No.
N: 11th?
T: No.
N: 12th.
T: Oh yeah, now I remember we didn't meet him until we were seniors, but I do remember that his senior project on the lighting system was really good.
N: Compared to some others like cutting grass and stuff like that.
T: Yeah some of them were pathetic.
N: At least the people who did them passed, some didn't even bother to try.
T: These people, along with the people who couldn't pass government, made a lot of empty seats on the graduation stage.
N: I remember the time when Schmitt was crowned prom king and Jenn Borowski queen.
T: I think he's still talking about it.
T: Yeah and Ransom and Amy Thomas were homecoming king and queen.
N: Yeah the times we had in high school were really fun.
T: Not only did we make the time enjoyable for ourselves, all the teachers, faculty, and those lunch ladies were always there to help us out and spread some kindness around.
N: Those times were really the best years of our life.
T: They sure were, thanks for reminiscing with me.
N: Its always fun to think of those times.
T: Yeah we'll have to do it again sometime.
N: Well, take it easy and good luck on the election.
T: Thanks bud, take care and good luck with everything.
N: Thanks, see ya man.

GIRLS JUST WANNA' HAVE FUN

The theme for this year's unit show was "Girls Just Wanna' Have Fun." It was held on March 6th in the High School auditorium. 1998-1999 Miss Viking Chrissy Mechan, along with other squad captains and features choreographed the dances. The seniors danced to "Last Dance." The show was a great success with the help of everyone's hard work and dedication.

Treasurer — Brenda Tabor

SCIENCE CLUB

President — Tim McNulty
Vice President — Jaynce Barrett
Secretary — Alyson Pisano
Treasurer — Michelle Wolfsberger

The Science Club, under the direction of Mrs. Paula Bartovsky, participated in a number of activities this year. Several members took part in Pennsylvania's Adopt-A-Highway program. The Science club also in the Duck-A-Thon which was sponsored by local charities. With everyone's hard work and generous donations, the Duck-A-Thon was a big success, as were all activities in which the club engaged.

ART CLUB

President: Jessica Smith
Vice President: Dershna Patel
Secretary: Rachael Mallis
Treasurer: Danielle Casteel

The Art Club, under the direction of Mr. John Kosek, participated in many activities this year. During the holidays, its members painted the windows of both the cafeteria and the main entrance to the high school. The members also entered a number of contests through out the year. Towards the end of the year, the Art Club went to Alexandria, Virginia to see Mt. Vernon, the birthplace and ancestral home of George Washington.

ASTRONOMY CLUB

President — John Lucchi
Vice President — Lindsey Hanna
Secretary — Orasinh Oupravong
Treasurer — Lindsey Griffiths

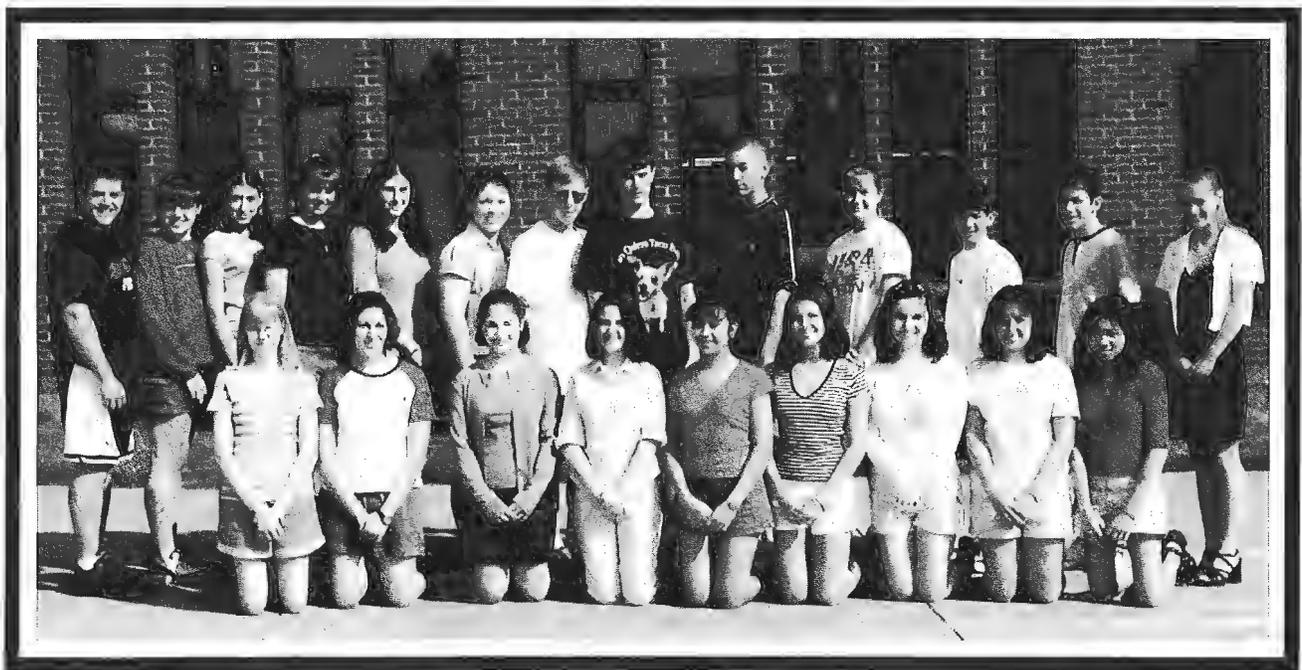

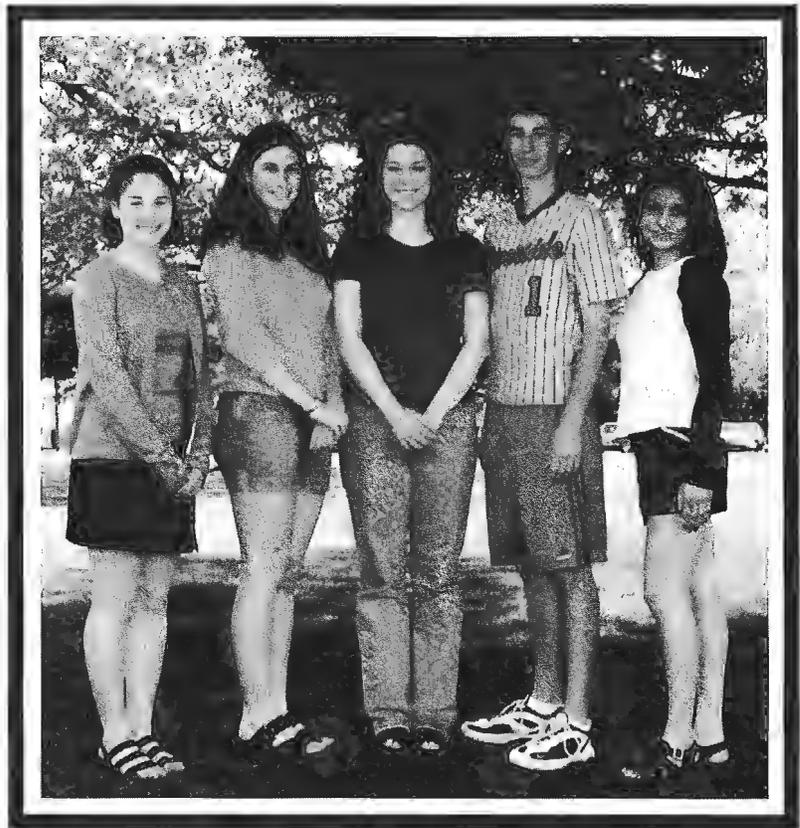

The Astronomy Club, with the experienced leadership of Mr. John Kosek, gained a vast amount of celestial knowledge. The nightly excursions to the observatory every Monday and the weekly film presentations left club members with a memorable look at the heavens. This year, the club traveled to New York City where they visited the Sony Building and learned a great deal about technology on a tour showcasing recent technological advances.

S.A.D.D.

President: Dershna Patel
President-elect: Carly Strenzetcky
Vice President: J. T. Yarem
Secretary: Keara Piekanski

S.A.D.D. stands for Students Against Driving Drunk. This club's purpose is to give students a way to protest drinking and other destructive decisions. Some members of S.A.D.D. presented White Face to the PTA. For White Face, students paint their faces white, and do not talk for the rest of the day as a protest against drunk driving.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The Riverside Chapter of the National Honor Society held the annual induction ceremony on March 24. During the service, Cara Nageli, Tim McNulty, John Lucchi, Michelle Wolfsberger, and Ryan Oustrich gave speeches on History, Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service respectively. The thirty-three newly inducted members of the Honor Society were selected because of their strong academic ability and efforts to serve their community. Advisor to the Nation Honor Society is Mrs. Paula Bartkovsky.

STUDENT COUNCIL

President: Lindsey Griffiths
Vice President: Michelle Wolfsberger
Treasurer: Orasinh Ou Paravong
Secretary: Lindsey Hanna

This year, the Student Council provided a voice for the student body on several occasions, demonstrating their dedication to improving the overall school environment. In the fall, they sponsored Spirit Week and the Homecoming Dance. During Halloween and also at Christmas, they distributed candy to students. They were also credited for providing the festive Christmas tree for the holiday season. On Valentine's Day, they passed out flowers and lollipops purchased from their annual sale. Led by advisor Susan Ludwikowski, the year concluded with a highly successful Blood Drive.

DRAMA CLUB

President: Joe Aniska
Vice President: Ryan Joyce
Secretary: Jenn Butts
Treasurer: Katie Johnston

The Drama Club worked diligently to put on this year's two highly anticipated productions. The first of these productions, held in December, was Riverside's annual Talent Show "On With the Show." As always, this year's show was an entertaining mix of amazing and unusual talent. Also this year, the Drama Club presented its annual spring play. This year's production was "Fiddler on the Roof." The show was a success and helped to show the many talents of Riverside's students. All of the club's hard work was rewarded with a trip to New York City where they saw the Broadway production of "Footloose."

TALENT SHOW

"On With the Show," the annual talent show, was held on December 16 in the High School auditorium. Students showed their odd and creative talents in many different ways. It started with Bill Barrett playing The National Anthem. Then, Dershna Patel and Carly Streznetcky performed a duet of The Boy is Mine. Jenn Borowski, Steph Copeland, Chrissy Meehan and Cara Nageli danced to Smooth Criminal. However, the most memorable performance of the night was when Vanilla Ice dropped in to perform their only hit Ice, Ice Baby. Master of Ceremonies for this most memorable evening was Freshman Ryan Joyce.

FIDDLER ON THE ROOF

The Drama Club worked hard this year to put on their successful presentation of "Fiddle on the Roof," held in the Riverside High School Auditorium on April 29th and 30th. Joe Aniska as Tevye and Keara Pickanski as Golde led the cast. Other characters included Bryan Douglas as Motel, Katie Johnston as Tzeitel, Derek Gleason as Lazar Wolf, Vince Pagnotti as Perchik, Jenny Corrotto as Shandel, and Rachael Mallis as Yente the Matchmaker. The dedication of the cast and crew was rewarded by an excellent and memorable show.

ACTIVITIES

HOMECOMING

"Movies" was the theme for Spirit Week '99. As usual, the week was filled with traditional, yet unique activities. Monday's theme was College Sweatshirt Day and on Tuesday, students were asked to dress for Black and White Day. Hippie Day was Wednesday's theme and everyone showed their holiday spirit on Thursday, which was Halloween Day. The week ended with students showing school spirit on the traditional Red and Blue Day. The first annual Jello-O-Eating contest highlighted the Homecoming Pep Rally, which came to a close with the crowning of our king, Jeff Ransom.

The final event of the 1999 Spirit Week activities was the Homecoming Dance, held in the high school cafeteria. Amy Thomas was crowned Queen and the court included First runner-up Kristie Gallagher, Second runner-up Rebecca Buldowski, Third runner-up Jennifer Borowski, and Fourth runner-up Stacy Ericson. The night was a proper ending to a fun-filled, eventful week.

PASSING OF THE SWORD

The annual "Passing of the Sword" semiformal was held at St. Stanislaus Center on March 27, 1999. Everyone was anxiously anticipating the main event of the evening, the announcement of the Unit heads for the 1999-2000 school year. Drum Majorette was Justine Ransom; Varsity Basketball Co-captains were Melissa Williams and Caitlin Mallis; Brenda Tabor and Stacey Sharek were named Pom-pon Co-captains; Swing Flag Co-captains were Alana Noel and Krystal Kane. Lesha Knight and Stephanie Semian were named JV Co-captains; Jenn Butts and Lindsey Hanna received varsity Co-captain honors; Keara Piekanski was named Feature Dancer. The highlight of the evening was when '98-'99 Miss Viking Chrissy Meehan passed the sword to the '99-'00 Miss Viking Nicole Field.

Meet Me Halfway

“Meet Me Halfway” was the theme to this year’s prom, which was held at St. Mary’s Center in Scranton on Friday, May 7. Juniors and seniors who attended spent the evening eating, dancing, and awaiting the announcement of the Prom King and Queen and the junior and senior attendants. Nicole Field was named Queen’s Scepter Bearer and Keara Piekanski received the honor of King’s Trophy Bearer. The Queen’s Crown Bearer was Maria Dente and the First Junior Attendant was Dershna Patel. Amy Thomas was named the Second Senior Attendant and the First Senior Attendant was Janycé Barrett. The crowning of Dave Schmitt as Prom King and Jenn Borowski as Prom Queen highlighted a very memorable evening for all in attendance.

CLASS PROPHECY

Underlying Plot: This year is 2019. We are co-owners or D&D Computer Inc. In the past three years, we have managed to overpower and buy out all of the competing software companies, including Microsoft. Bill Gates is now working for us as a janitor.

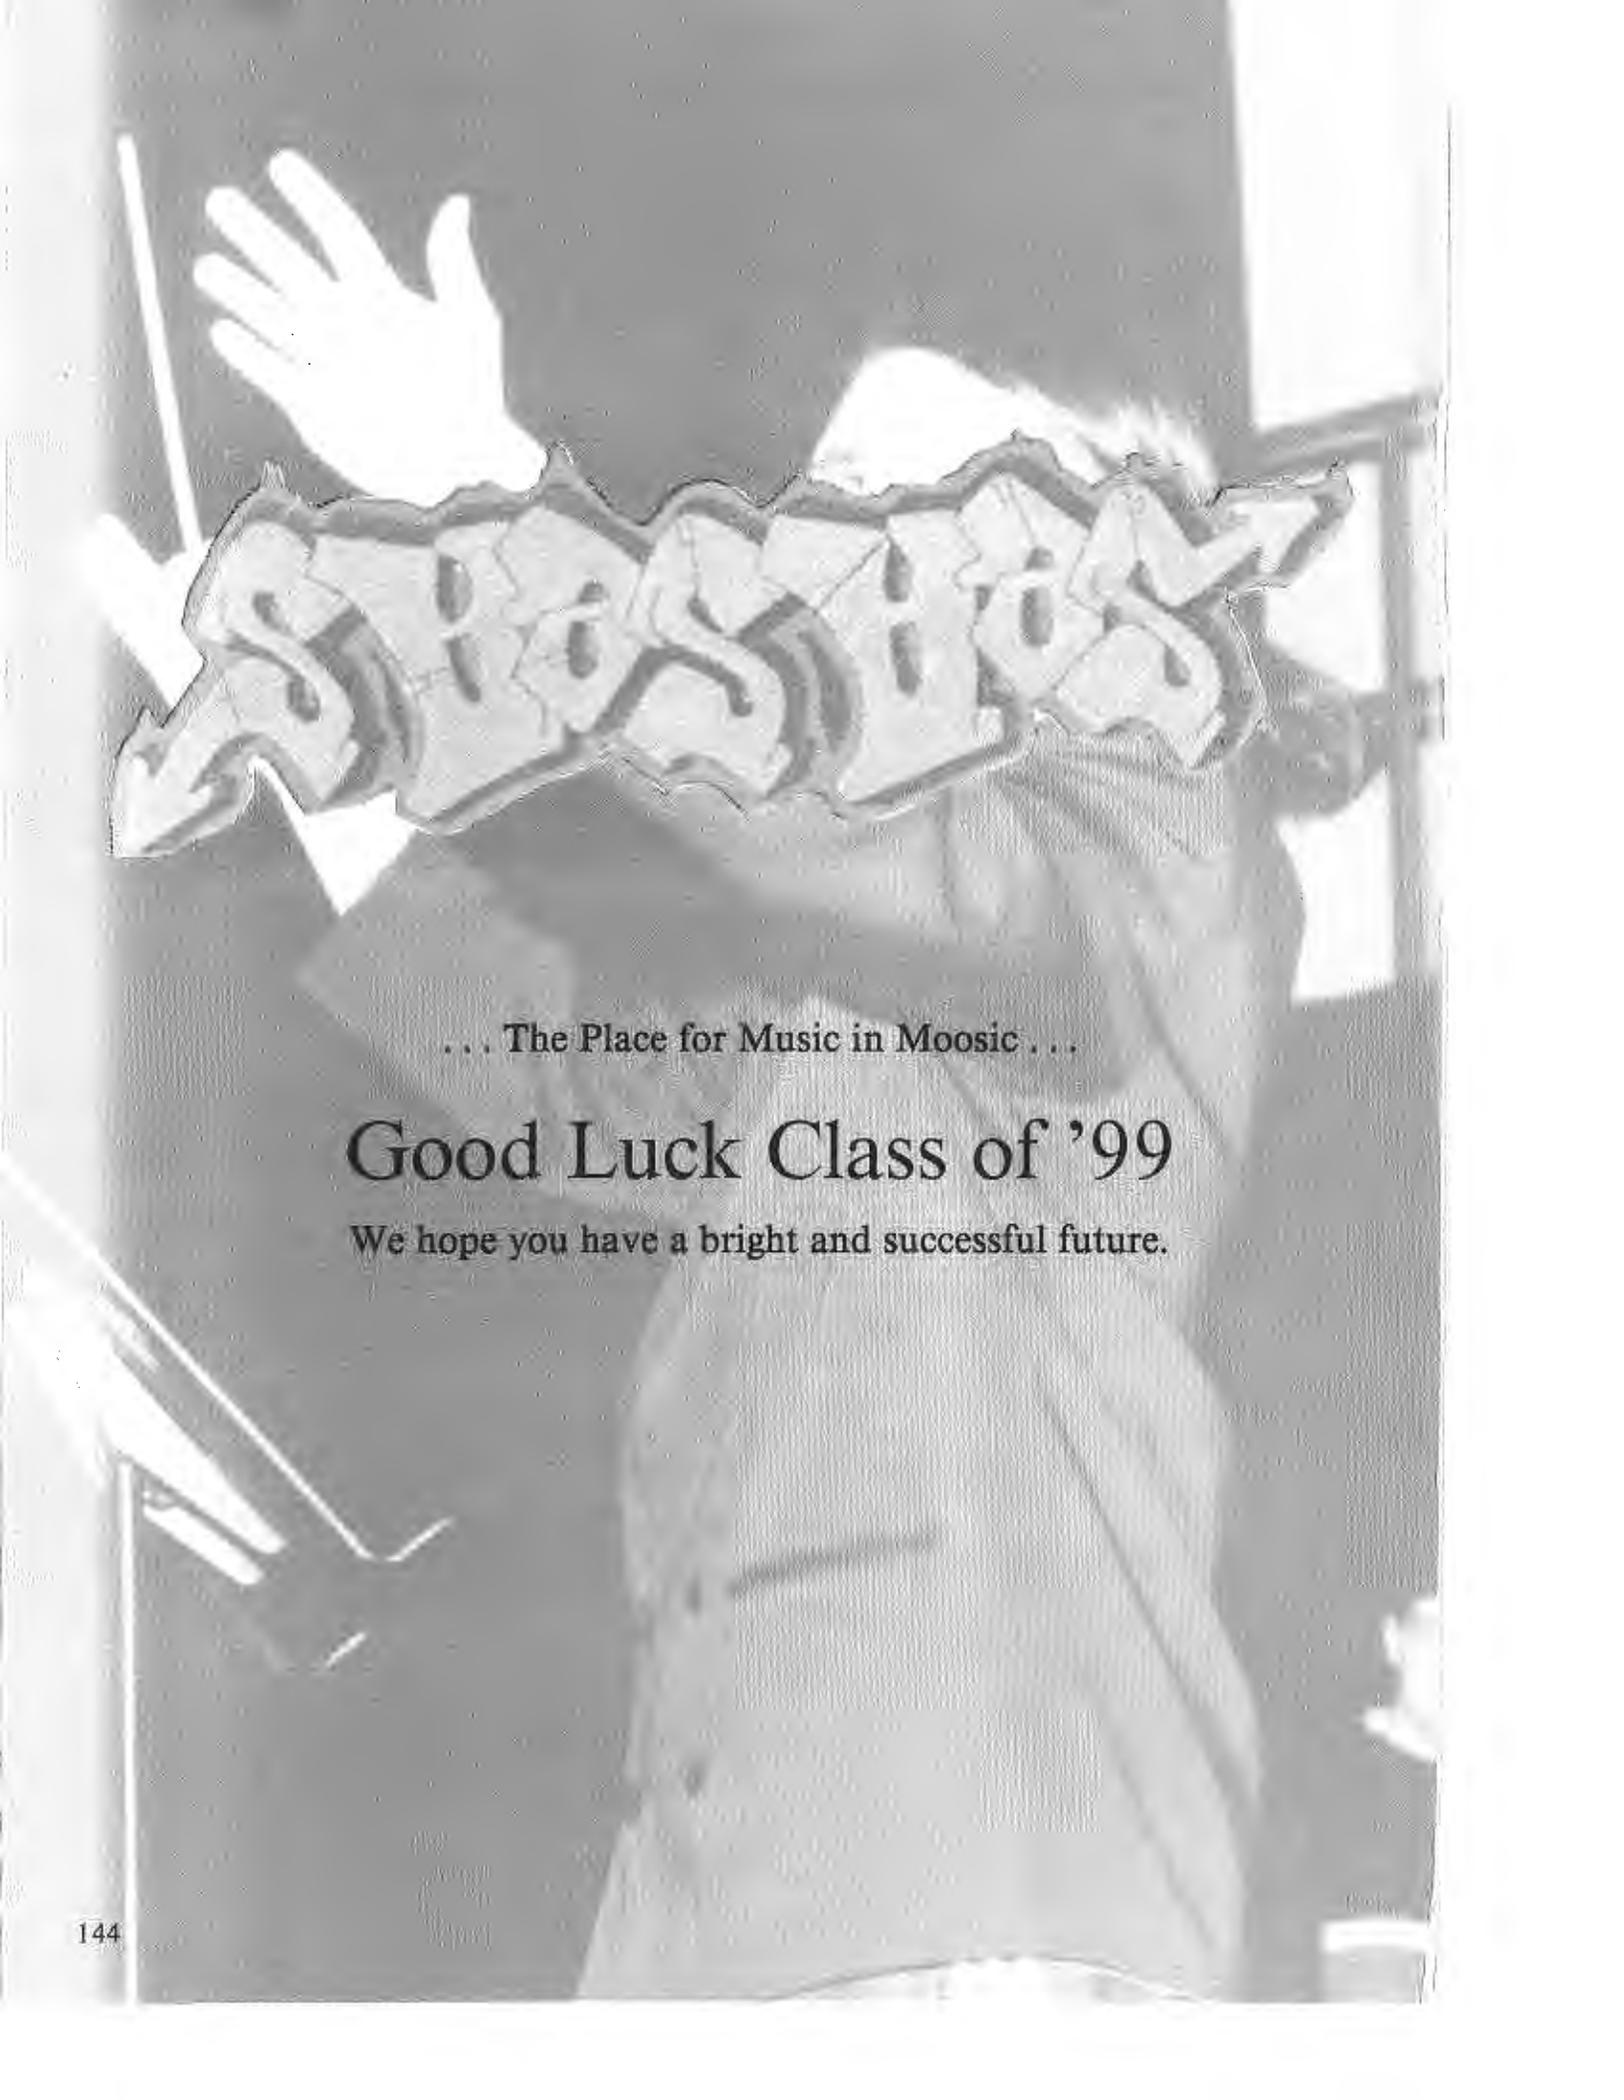

JD: "Good Evening Richard"
RD: "Good Evening Dr. Derenick"
JD: "Richard, we are the richest men alive . . . do you realize that?"
RD: "Yes, of course I do, we pretty much rule the world."
JD: "Don't you think we have the greatest lives? After all, we do spend 23 hours in front of a computer every day."
RD: "Yea who could ask for anything more. I bet no one else has it as good as we do. Do you think any of the kids we graduated with are as successful as we are?"
JD: "No, probably not. All of the cool kids who thought we were the losers in high school, should see us now. We really showed them."
RD: "I wonder what they are doing."
JD: "Do you remember of any other computer enthusiasts who have fallen to us?"
RD: "Why yes, Dr. Derenick. How about the Pisauro character?"
JD: "Oh yes, Pisauro. We just hired him a week ago. Apparently he got in trouble with the FBI for trying to infiltrate the Pentagon, but I'm sure he will be a handy addition to our programming team."
RD: "Oh yes, I'm sure he will. What about Joe Raymer?"
JD: "Well I don't know much of what came of him, but the last I heard, he was working at Radio Shack."
RD: "What, as a computer analyst?"
JD: "Yes, and how about Joshua Holgate? Doesn't he work for us a Computer Tech."
RD: "Well, he was working for us a while."
JD: "Was working for us?"
RD: "Yes, we terminated him last year, when we found out he was using our receptionist Maura Foley as a toothpick?"
JD: "Ah yes, now I remember. And did you hear, Maura is finally a member of the 100lb club."
RD: "Oh really, that's great. What ever happened to Holgate after he was fired?"
JD: "He went into the movie business, where he and Breymer utilized their brute strength and remade "King Kong vs. Godzilla."
RD: "And I also heard that Breymer opened a mechanic shop with Willard Williams."
JD: "Does anyone we graduated with work at the sports hospital down the road."
RD: "Which one?"
JD: "The NBA hospital we just bought."
RD: "Oh yes, Jennifer Robinson worked there for quite some time."
JD: "Worked? What happened, did she quit?"
RD: "Well, she was always getting stepped on by the basketball players."
JD: "Yea, She was pretty short."
RD: "Tell me about it. Hey, What ever happened to her friend Jenny Corrato?"
JD: "She works at the same hospital."
RD: "Oh that's right, she was the first doctor to coin the phrase 'oops'?"
JD: "Oh that's not good."
RD: "Didn't she used to work with a Psychiatrist?"
JD: "Yes, she was working with Brandon Fedor. He used his 'Fedorian' Method, in which he criticizes his patients until they are cured."
RD: "From what I hear, it's not all that effective. However from what I understand the medical treatment Pete Tolarico under went was pretty effective."
JD: "I assuming you are referring his donation of his extra genetic material to help balding men?"
RD: "Exactly, those eyebrows sure came in handy. Also, doesn't Danielle work on the third floor of that hospital?"
JD: "Yes, she runs the sleep clinic."
RD: "And who could forget about the great candy shop on the ground floor, that is run by Sean Golembeski?"
JD: "Yea his pistachios are a big hit, which he calls his 'Red . . . Pistachios'."
RD: "You know what is hysterical though?"
JD: "What?"
RD: "Yea, and take a look at the economy, it hasn't been better in ages."
RD: "That's ironic considering he couldn't pass govt. or economics in high school."
JD: "From what I hear, he works with Volack too."
RD: "Yes, didn't he follow his dreams and become a politician?"
JD: "It's to bad that he didn't become president, isn't it?"
RD: "Yes, but I'm sure he doesn't mind working as Vice President for President Saranchuck."
JD: "And we have Amy Saranchuck as Secretary of Defense under the John Saranchuck Administration."
RD: "What about Cravetts, did he go to the Army?"
JD: "Nope, he decided to stay local and help start up his own "Troop." Boyscout Troop 345 to be exact. What about John Davis?"
RD: "Well he went to a marine academy but decided to go into the Air Force. Unfortunately he wasn't allowed to fly at night, due to enormous amount of light given off by his head."
JD: "Speaking of flying, have you seen Gondella or Pajalik since they migrated south for the winter."
RD: "Ha ha, no I haven't Oh and what do you think of the Confederate

Revolution started by Kohut and Spanburgh?"
JD: "I thought it was pretty funny. It failed after they found out that they were the only two fighting. What do you think about the new political group?"
RD: "By that, I am assuming you are referring to the 'Femi-Nazi' political party run by Leigh-Ann Wescott and Dawn Kollinage."
JD: "Yes, and speaking of legalities, did you hear about Bill Taft?"
RD: "No, what do you mean?"
JD: "He, along with Jeremy Dean, is a guard at the newly reopened Alcatraz Prison."
RD: "And I also heard, Trolio committed a crime just to get in, so he could try to break out and get national fame."
JD: "What did he do to get in?"
RD: "He tried breaking into Alcatraz in the first place."
JD: "Did you hear that Jaynee of all people got arrested?"
RD: "Nope, for what?"
JD: "She was arrested for vandalism. She spray painted every wall she could find with Tim McNulty's name."
RD: "Do you know that Capwell's life proved to be really interesting."
JD: "And what do you mean by that?"
RD: "Well, isn't it true that she graduated, entered the work force, and then retired only a few months afterwards, and is living on Social Security benefits?"
JD: "She was really old when she graduated."
RD: "Yes she was, everyone though Eugene was going to be the oldest graduate of Riverside."
JD: "Yes, he missed it by a year, he graduated when he was 29."
RD: "Has anyone started their own business' besides us?"
JD: "That's word around the campfire."
RD: "Like who?"
JD: "Well, Lisa Golorusso took over Colorusso's Café and has made some great improvements I've heard."
RD: "That's good. Anybody else?"
JD: "Yes, Glynnie Greenfield took over the family business of selling proude out of his front yard, and is doing very well."
RD: "That's almost as good as Steph Copeland's little undertaking in the retail world."
JD: "Why what did she do, take over managers position at K-Mart?"
RD: "Well actually, she opened up her own Steph-Mart, to rival her father."
JD: "Doesn't her friend Alicia design clothes for her store?"
RD: "Nope, I'm sorry to say it, but she took another direction. She did however land a big deal with Wal-Mart, for whom she now designs table cloths."
JD: "From what I hear, Chrissy Meehan also made her own business venture."
RD: "Yea, I heard about that. Didn't she begin her own make-up company?"
JD: "Exactly, however it fell very quickly when she realized on one buys nearly a much make-up as she does. What ever happened to Michelle Pivovarnik?"
RD: "Last I heard was that she put her culinary skills to good use, flippin' burger at McDonalds"
JD: "I also heard that Shannon Gieski and Rachel Bentler did OK in their field as well."
RD: "Yes they did Dr. D., with that Beauty Salon they opened a few years back."
JD: "Did you happen to notice that new pharmacy down the road that just opened a few days ago, next to our Hospital?"
RD: "As a matter of fact I did. That pharmacy is owned by our dear friend Jennifer Borowski."
JD: "Well isn't that something!"
RD: "Yes it is. And as expected, Cara opened one just like it across the street."
JD: "Did Sluck take over his fathers business?"
RD: "Not exactly, he opened his own line of restaurants called "Wingies"
JD: "No, its pronounced 'WINGIES.' Richard, are you aware that many of our former classmates devoted their life to God and religion."
RD: "Why I find that every difficult to compute."
JD: "For instance, are you wise to the fact that Matthew Burne, began his own Christian Gym. Which is where he uses the motto. 'God will pump you up.'"
RD: "Wow . . . that is truly a brilliant idea."
JD: "Amen to that."
RD: "Are you aware that Brittany Preslock also devoted her life to her God."
JD: "Surely you jest. That comes as a shock to me."
RD: "True, but when you marry 'God', religion becomes an active part of you life."
JD: "Speaking of God, did you know that the Church marked Nathan's Birthda as a religious holiday?"
RD: "I do now. Still on religion, wasn't Derek Gleason into all of that?"
JD: "You speaketh the truth, Richard. He did that up until 2004 when he die when it became trendy for people to throw themselves of bridges."
RD: "True, but he came back in 2005 when reincarnation was the new trend Hey Dr. D. did you hear about Alyson Pisano?"
JD: "What do you mean?"
RD: "She began her own religion known as Patism, in which she worships her boyfriend Pat 24/7."
JD: "Are you wise to the notion that many of our former classmates joined th armed forces as well?"
RD: "So I've heard. Didn't Nicole Puchalski take ok that road when she decide to live on an army base with Charlie Burdett."
JD: "Why yes she did, but did you know that Dave Smith moved in with Orasin only two doors down from them, and Dave serves as Orasin's Army wife?"
RD: "Isn't that the funniest news."

JD: "I know, but I heard that Orasin had to leave him after she thought he was cheating on her with his Chirroco."
RD: "That is truly a funny statement Dr. H!"
JD: "Yes I know."
RD: "Dr. D, did you hear about those white and his military stories?"
JD: "No I didn't, what do you mean?"
RD: "Well due to an unfortunate incident involving some white people being fired from Army's Communications Division. Do you know what happened in that by Zahornackey?"
JD: "Well he took on the burden of being the man who fired them from their jobs."
RD: "His last name having with?"
JD: "I know."
RD: "Anyway, didn't many numbers of them die in the Vietnam War?"
JD: "Why yes, there were a few during their time in the branch."
RD: "Didn't Mary Ann Mitchell become a household name after establishing a world record?"
JD: "You tell me."
RD: "Ok, I will. She did it when she captured the record distinction of having the most boyfriends."
JD: "Kevin Harchar became quite the famous man himself."
RD: "How do you mean?"
JD: "Well after making it big in the NBA, a toy company made a doll Key Doll after him."
RD: "That is certainly impressive."
JD: "However there was a problem when Harchar thought the doll was broken, because it never shut up, but the manufacturer claimed it worked just fine."
RD: "Speaking of dolls, Tiffany Kaplan became a spokeswoman for Mattel."
JD: "Well isn't that the cheese Richard?"
RD: "Yes it is. She is the new 'Flash Test Barbie'."
JD: "Joe Jezowski is a Banker."
RD: "Oh really. Anyway, from what I understand Bill Schwartz became the successful man he always wanted to be."
JD: "Yes I know, he started the F.W.O., Bill World Order with his fan club enough said."
RD: "Hey did you here what Paul Howard did?"
JD: "No what did he do?"
RD: "He followed in Vanilla Ice's and Eminem's footsteps and became yet another white rapper trying to make it big."
JD: "Doesn't he call himself 'Carrot Top'?"
RD: "Yes I believe so."
JD: "I believe we also had other musicians from our class, didn't John Jones, Billy Barret, Steve Uher, and Ray Ruffalo own a band called the 'Strip-ah-bobs'?"
RD: "Yeah they did. Do you know what class of theirs?"
JD: "Yes, she took over the role of Betty Ross."
RD: "Thank you for Pointing that out."
JD: "Any other people who pursued careers?"
RD: "Pursue is not the word, more like still."
JD: "Well, Kristie was taught making the 9th degree band members. And did you hear about Jesse Jones?"
JD: "No what happened?"
RD: "Well he had a bad car accident, but when he found out the bad thing was really a girl, it broke his heart and he stopped his quest."
JD: "Ain't I glad that you were informed about Scooby Doo, but found out he was a cartoon?"
JD: "I was only about April 1964."
RD: "Who was that the long time from Manhattan?"
JD: "Who's who?"
RD: "You know the old time, you were coming to my help."
JD: "Right."
RD: "Oh, that is how you may had the 15 minutes of fame."
JD: "Yes, how about Frank Sinatra. I haven't heard his name in months. Where, what was he doing to him?"
RD: "Well he went to college, lived out his life in the mountains, but since he was a pretty boy, he was recruited by the alcoholology society and was made captain of the squad."
JD: "Speaking of sports, did you remember Matt Martini?"
RD: "Ten what did he do as a professional?"
JD: "Well he won the world's strongest man title two years in a row."
RD: "Speaking of fighting, did you realize we also have another fighter who made out well?"
JD: "Of course who could forget about Dave 'The Hawk' Wagner? Was he brilliant corner man Jimmy King?"
RD: "That's one fight Martini is certain not to win."
JD: "Another one that Matt might not win is against Greg Prid?"
RD: "You mean, 'Greg the Great' the pro wrestler?"
JD: "Exactly. Oh and I almost looked over Ed Spitzer, did you forget to mention him when we were referring to the criminals?"
RD: "No, he came clean, and despite a rough 3rd and 4th quarter in advanced comp, he shocked the literary world when he won the noble prize for literature."
JD: "I guess he was just a superhero in disguise."
RD: "Speaking of superheroes, how about Brandon Gaylets?"
JD: "What, the fact that he took the alias 'Clark Kent' and moved to Clark Summit to live his superhero identity? That's old news."
RD: "Oh and did you hear about Brandi Avanti being a successful business woman?"
JD: "We also had a few class couples."
RD: "Yes, how about Jeff Grant and Becky Whitworth getting married, and having lots of 'little skate rats' which now dominate the world's population?"

JD: "Oh yea I heard about that, but did you hear about the unlikely couple from our class Richard?"
RD: "No Why what do you mean?"
JD: "You know, about T. J. Hudak and Michelle Wolfsberger getting married."
RD: "Really, do they have kids, what are they like."
JD: "From what I hear their kids are great at sports and brilliant in the classroom."
RD: "Oh really, are their kids as stressed as they are?"
JD: "Yes of course, The kids went bald at age 5, but thanks to Pete Talorico's donation to science, they now have a full head of hair again."
RD: "They define the word stressed."
JD: "One more class couple was very obvious, Of course Stacy and Ryan got married."
RD: "Yea and surprisingly they landed great jobs, unfortunately Stacy works both of them."
JD: "Speaking of surprises, what about the surprise Josh Borer got."
RD: "What, that D'Amico was his long lost father."
JD: "Yes what a shock."
RD: "Even more shocking is Tom Colby's new discovery."
JD: "What is that?"
RD: "That learning by osmosis really works. He now teaches a class on how to sleep on your books and gather up all of the information you need."
JD: "Did you hear about Tara Davies receiving the 'Mother of the century' award?"
RD: "Yes, and speaking of Tara, did you hear that Jennifer Owens became her nanny for a few years, and then opened up a day care of her own?"
JD: "Daycare eh? Isn't it in Old Forge?"
RD: "Why yes, I think it is."
JD: "Speaking of Old Forge, what do you think about Jesse Tokash becoming a permanent resident of Old Forge?"
RD: "All I have to say is, It's about time."
JD: "I think it's about time for Kelly DelGurcio to step down from her Yearbook editor position. I mean, 34 years is a long time."
RD: "I was wondering. Have you gone on any trips lately?"
JD: "No why do you ask?"
RD: "Well I was wondering if you ran into Bill Kytte at the Airport."
JD: "You mean he actually put his luggage carrying to good use?"
RD: "You know old. Speaking of high school skills put to good use, have you had any of Ralph Adams' famous Glee-Suds?"
JD: "Yes I have, and I'm glad she uses so much product testing herself, the drinks are fantastic."
RD: "We were talking about your brother, may he have to go to the bathroom."
JD: "Which one, Bill or Ralph?"
RD: "Yes of course, who else was in the class that would come 10 minutes?"
JD: "Did you watch the TV last night Richard?"
RD: "Sure, who was on that was good?"
JD: "Well our knowledge I was watching the special cooperative that our class was Brandon Carter."
RD: "It really had some, especially the one."
JD: "Yes, and the White and Michael Han, was an interesting story, the journey, the principles of the redneck entrepreneur."
RD: "What about that friend James Russell? Did she ever get something like 'Admiral' from the government?"
JD: "She sure did. I saw some operation in a hotel room that she had to terminate."
RD: "Oh well, but I heard, when she went to the hospital, it was a real bad case."
JD: "What about the Hanson?"
RD: "Lars Hanson was quite successful in his own professional career, but he had some on the off-camera life. What was he supposed to have going?"
JD: "Well, he went on to college and got back on the ground the wrong way, without the 7. I think the funniest and weirdest story is 'Who's the biggest to have Schmidt?'"
RD: "Well, he wasn't around for long. A few years after he graduated high school, he spontaneously combusted, as many of us had expected."
JD: "What about your friend Mike Under?"
RD: "Well that I heard was that he became very successful in what he wanted to do and got involved in a gang. He assumed the identity of Lewis and Clark playing gang leader Kevin 'Duck' Puchinsky and his gang of chronic offenders."
JD: "How about Amy Thomas and Melissa Wilcox?"
RD: "Last I heard, Amy is beautiful and Melissa is still working as Mr. C's."
JD: "How about the Sparta Daily taking over Family Again after Susan replaced them for 90% of his life?"
RD: "That's great, but more interesting is that Paul's business is doing well."
JD: "And what business would that be?"
RD: "Well he started his very own line of Big Fun Trucks, and they seem to be a big hit."
